Customer Facts

a summary of key Presence information for the Corporate Professional

If you left your job today, would everyone who has your business card be able to reach you tomorrow?

PRESENCE PRESERVES YOUR PERSONAL EQUITY

You work hard building contacts and clients. Why would you risk losing contact with anyone simply because you change companies, or even just change jobs within a company. Think of how many people you meet each day who have your contact information. Presence solutions like Tagline™ provide you with an assurance that anyone who needs to speak to you – now or in the future – has direct VIP access to you. No matter where you are or where you go.

CONTROLLING YOUR PRESENCE GIVES YOU PEACE OF MIND

Imagine having the power to delegate any form of communication to a virtual assistant that can forward them to preassigned channels, allowing you to respond from any device and any location anytime you choose. If you've ever dreamed of having simple control over all your access points in one convenient cost effective environment, look no further. Tagline™ puts control back where it belongs: with you.

PRESENCE SAVES TIME AND MONEY

Having Presence increases your ability to manage your time more efficiently, thus increasing productivity and profits. And since you own your own unique number for life, you'll never again have to worry about changing service providers or locations, because instead of being tied down with multiple fixed access points you now have one that isn't attached to anything but you.

PRESENCE gives you and your organization identity, personalization and control.

IDENTITY lets you direct all forms of communicating to wherever you are by whatever method you choose.

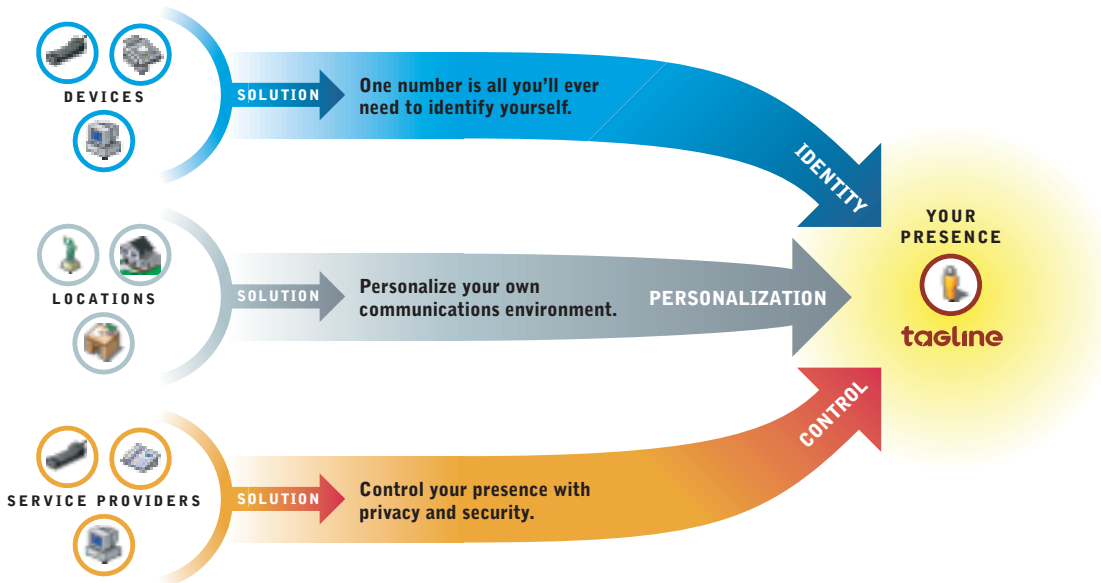

PERSONALIZATION allows limitless customization of all your devices and locations the way you've always wanted... your way.

CONTROL your accessibility privately and securely with the power to filter any form of communication.

IDENTITY lets you combine all forms of communicating into one convenient and cost effective environment.

PERSONALIZATION lets you respond to any communication with whatever form you wish to use at any moment in time, for business and pleasure.

CONTROL your presence independent of restricting terms, conditions and rates imposed by service providers.

PRESENCE IS WHERE YOU WANT TO BE...

Communicate with greater identity, personalization and control.

Let Presence identify you and be part of your unique style.

Never allow your presence to be determined by anyone other than yourself.

Presence is person-to-person communication the way it's meant to be... your way.
